GH2 Architects designs an urban boutique hotel fitted with modern amenities in the Blue Dome District of Downtown Tulsa.

Hotel Indigo, InterContinental Hotels Group

GH2 started this project by preparing the conceptual design for the hotel and meeting with all involved parties, including representatives from SJS Hospitality and the Hotel Indigo brand. We then provided all schematic design, design development, construction documents, interior design, bidding and negotiation and construction administration services. With the driving force behind our design being Hotel Indigo's commitment to "distinctively local personality" and "neighborhood story" for each of their hotels, our completely custom, non-prototypical design features a mocha brick exterior and vibrant, industrial details on the interior.

Unique features of the new 93-key Santa Fe Square hotel include a bar on the top floor with a balcony that overlooks Downtown Tulsa, a restaurant on the ground floor with a private dining/meeting room and other details that tie the new building to the existing area, which has a heavy concentration of warehouses and other industrial buildings.

In addition to the surrounding neighborhood, Tulsa's history also influenced our design. Following the discovery of oil at Red Fork in 1901, our beautiful city's population, culture and architecture exploded. This sudden and immense growth and prosperity coupled with the gritty business of drilling oil inspired the interior design of Hotel Indigo. Examples of this juxtaposition are the factory windows in restaurant area, exposed conduits, rich materials like leather, copper accents, plush custom carpet and reclaimed wood.

Design. Service. Solutions.

GH2 Architects was founded in 1973 to provide clients with excellent design services and a very high level of service. After 44 years and 50 people, the mission remains the same. From our offices in Tulsa and Oklahoma City, we offer architecture, interior design, landscape architecture and cost estimating services in-house.

In addition to the distinguished general practice, GH2 also has specialty practices in the areas of hospitality, equestrian and historic preservation architecture that have gained GH2 international recognition. Most recently, we have won two design awards from the American Institute of Architects Eastern Oklahoma Chapter: a Citation Award for the Society of Exploration Geophysicists headquarters office building at 91st and Yale in Tulsa and the People's Choice Award for the renovation and rehabilitation of the University of Oklahoma Beta Theta Pi Fraternity House.
